MUGGLE

This is not intended to diagnose in any way. It is purely for entertainment purposes.

To be a muggle, simply means to be non-magical. and has no magical blood at all. Muggles are often referred to as "No-Maj" which is short for No Magic.

Muggles are simply ordinary human beings without any magical powers. Muggles almost always have no awareness of the existence of magic.

Although a Muggle in Harry Potter world is sometimes portrayed as foolish and befuddled, one can be a Muggle without those traits.

Famous Muggles

Some of the more famous sociopaths include: The Dursley Family, Tobias Snape, Frank Bryce, and, well, you.

Famous Muggles

Dursley was the surname of a Muggle family, the only known living close relatives of Harry Potter. Petunia Dursley (née Evans) was the older sister of Harry's mother, Lily Potter (née Evans), but took the surname Dursley when she married Vernon Dursley. They had a son named Dudley.

Tobias Snape, father of Severus. Non-magical person. Considered a Muggle. Tobias was not fond of anything, including magic. His son, Severus knew more curses when he arrived than the seventh-year students did.

Frank Bryce was a Muggle who became the gardener for the Riddle family. Although suspected of the murder of the Riddle family he was innocent. He was murdered by Lord Voldemort when overheard them discussing plans to murder Harry Potter.
