A sociopath consistently disregards others' feelings and has a general don't care attitude about the violations of people's rights. Sociopaths may not even realize that they are a sociopath. A sociopath is generally described as unorganized, versus a psychopath which is organized and meticulous. Sociopaths are generally thought of as aggressive, prone to outbursts, and made by their environment, not born this way.

Traits of a sociopath include lying, irresponsibility, manipulation, and lack of emotion. (Peterson, T. (2015, August 11). Sociopath Traits: Characteristics of a Sociopath, HealthyPlace.
